COVID update

The Board has extended the COVID concessions through to 31 December 2021.

These measures have been extended in order to allow clubs the most flexibility in the planning of their trials past the end of June.

Now that the concessions have been in place for a number of months, we would appreciate your feedback on what changes should be permanent, what should be implemented differently and what measures are no longer necessary either now or in the future. Permanent rule changes would need to be approved before the end of June in order to come into effect January 2022.

A full list of temporary exceptions can be found on the website

Trial Procedures

Clubs are reminded that they need to be aware of their obligations to the competitors and judges at all times and that they are following correct procedure.
